Prospects for Birmingham Peace Unsure

By STAN ATKINS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Prospects for a final settlement of the Birmingham desegregation campaign were uncertain today despite an optimistic statement by Negro integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

King said Thursday night that an agreement virtually had been worked out except for minor details. A series of statements and counterstatements followed.

City officials immediately said any agreement worked out by a biracial committee was not binding on them. The committee, composed of business and civic leaders, has no official status.

The committee resumes work today. The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, one of the Negro leaders, said a news conference would be held later.

Both King and Abernathy warned that demonstrations would be resumed if no agreement is reached during the day.

For the second straight day, there were no massive demonstrations Thursday. Earlier demonstrations resulted in the arrests of approximately 2,400 and use of fire hoses and police dogs to disperse Negro crowds.

The Negro leaders had called a truce Wednesday while the biracial committee worked for a Continued on Page Two

Hoffa, Pals Facing New Charges

By GAVIN SCOTT

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Teamsters President James R. Hoffa today faced new charges—attempting to bribe jurors in his deadlocked federal court conspiracy trial here last year.

A five-count indictment returned by a special federal grand jury accused the labor leader with "aiding, commanding and inducing" efforts to influence two jurors and a prospective juror to vote for his acquittal.

In Philadelphia, Hoffa said he was not guilty and declined comment because he had not seen the indictment. He appeared before a U.S. commissioner and posted a $10,000 bond for a hearing next Monday.

Six other persons, most of them close friends or associates of Hoffa, also were indicted, and Justice Department attorneys indicated still more indictments might be forthcoming.

The grand jury charged the defendants offered $10,000 to a prospective juror, a similar amount to the son of a juror and a "promotion" to a Tennessee highway patrolman whose wife was on the jury. The two jurors were replaced before the case went to the jury.

Hoffa, 50, who heads the nation's largest single union, was tried on charges he conspired to violate the Taft-Hartley Act by accepting funds illegally from a Detroit transport firm in return for labor peace.

The trial, which began Oct. 22, ended Dec. 23, when U.S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller declared a mistrial, the jury having reported it was hopelessly deadlocked, 7 to 5, for acquittal.

Hoffa was indicted on five counts.

Indicted on single counts were:

Ewing King, president of Teamsters Local 327 here; Allen Dorfman, close friend of Hoffa and a Chicago insurance broker; Larry Campbell, business agent for Teamsters Local 299 in Detroit, which Hoffa heads; Thomas E. Bell's uncle, Nicholas J. Tweel, Huntington, W. Va., insurance executive and president of the Continental Tobacco Co. of New York and Lawrence W. Medlin, Nashville merchant.

The indictment identified the two jurors toward whom approaches were directed as Gratin Fields of Nashville and Mrs. James Paschall of Woodbury. The prospective juror was James C. Tippens, Nashville insurance man.

JFK, Canadian Prime Minister Air Problems

The two leaders plan two days of informal talks at this vacation resort on all outstanding problems between the two countries, including nuclear defense and trade.

President Kennedy was to fly from Washington to Otis Air Force Base, arriving at 11 a. m. Pearson was expected to arrive from Ottawa a few minutes later in a Royal Canadian Air Force plane.

The two leaders were to spend most of today and Saturday reviewing the issues which have built up friction between the two countries during the past six years.

Pearson has had similar talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in London, as part of his announced program of trying to restore Canada's prestige in world affairs.

The meeting between Kennedy and Pearson finds relations between the United States and Canada at the lowest point in years. Former Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker was highly critical of the United States on many questions, and he ran in the recent Continued on Page Two

Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb, Dies

BALTIMORE (AP)—An assistant medical examiner said today "there is a definite suspicion that narcotics are involved in the death" of Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb, a mammoth veteran professional football player.

Dr. Rudiger Breintecker said a preliminary autopsy failed to disclose what caused the death of Lipscomb who was found unconscious in a West Baltimore apartment.

But the assistant medical examiner said there were at least three needle marks above the veins on both elbows of the giant athlete.

He said a home-made syringe found near the body will be chemically tested, but that results will not be known until next week.

CREATIVE WORK
NO DISGRACE
By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I'm like a caged lioness because of what people will say if with family and social background, I go into business. So I am cooped up in this big house, pacing the floor because my socially prominent family say it would be a disgrace for me to do any work, even the creative kind. My parents and husband think I'm plain daffy if I don't do as other young matrons in this town do: play golf at the country club, play bridge at each other's homes, or attend those little informal luncheons where everybody claws absent "friends" and drinks too much.

The family says I should be content with my beautiful new home, two fine children and a car to gad about in.

"I've always dreamed of doing something creative like dress-designing and, now that the children are of school age, intend to realize that dream. I love clothes, have good taste and know how to dress to type. I make all of my own clothes from choice. People invariably compliment me on my appearance and ask me where I buy my clothes. I never tell that they are home-made because my family would not like it.

How can I bring this dream of mine to life? Should I start with a specialty shop where I might sell accessories as well as wearing apparel? Or would it be wiser to begin here at home and, if so, would people come? It is my plan to stock fabrics too so that the customers may choose a precisely what they want.

I've not breathed a word of this yet to my family. Should I wait until everything is set or break the news now? There's sure to be a row. —Determined

Dear Determined: Many women from prominent families have gone into business without loss of face and you can, too. Lay your plans then break the news to your family. Cite Lily Pulitzer of Florida and New York as an example of a socially prominent woman who has made a real name for herself in the dress-designing field. The little number which rings the cash register for her is the now famous Lilly sack dress.

Mrs. Pulitzer showed the original "Lilly" wear in her Florida garden. Fashionable women friends took one look and said, "Lily, you've just got to do a repeat on that for us."

When your friends compliment you about this or that dress you are wearing, tell them you made it and you are so glad they like it. Mention that you are thinking of starting a little dressmaking business at home. Before long someone who is really interested in having a dress designed will call up or drop by, then you have to take it from there.

Start at home in a small way. Don't attempt to stock fabrics and patterns. There is too much financial risk involved in this kind of an operation and it also requires experience in merchandising. Stick to the dressmaking idea and offer your advice on styling, color and fabric. I do not know of any place where you might buy small quantities of material at wholesale but some large department stores do give a discount to registered dressmakers. Also, their end of season sales of couture silks, satins and wools, might even justify a buying trip to New York, provided you went armed with commissions.

Dear Helen: I am an elderly lady who has an idea for an article which would sell in great quantities. It came to me in the middle of the night as a way out of my troubles. I hesitate to tell what it is for fear it will be pirated. How should I go about getting it on the market? —Hopeful solution. King had said at a news conference shortly after noon Thursday that agreement had been reached, he said then, provided for desegregation of lunch counters and other public facilities in the downtown stores, and improvement of job opportunities for Negroes.

Dear Hopeful: That is the ques-

The other two points sought were demands that charges against the 2,400 arrested be dropped, and for the formation of an official committee of Negroes and white persons to deal with racial problems.

Shortly after King's comment Thursday night that only minor details remained to be worked out, his top aide, the Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker, said there appeared to be some misunderstanding about what King meant.

He said King issued this statement to clarify it:

"Things are almost worked out, but there are still some last-minute details to be dealt with."

He did not say what details. Mayor Albert Boutwell and the man he defeated for the post in a recent election, Police Commissioner Eugene (Bull) Connor, said they were not committed to any agreement worked out by the bi-racial committee.

"I have not been party to the recent negotiations between private citizens of both races," Boutwell said. "I have made no commitment with reference to any agreement worked out by the bi-racial committee."

"I regard it as an unwarranted presumption for anyone to infer or suggest that there has been a 'truce' between the city of Birmingham and any who have violated the law."

Most of the Negro children arrested in the demonstration were released in custody of their parents who signed a $250 "straw bond"—requiring no posting of money.

election campaign on an anti-American platform.

The outstanding issue before Kennedy and Pearson is whether Canada will accept nuclear warheads for the Bomarc-B missiles on launching pads at two Canadian bases. Diefenbaker agreed in 1958 to accept nuclear weapons, but Canada and the United States never reached an agreement as to how the weapons would be controlled.

Pearson has pledged that his government will carry out all nuclear commitments made by Canada, but he has made it clear that he is cool to the idea of having nuclear weapons on Canadian soil.

Pearson made it clear in advance that the discussions would be informal and that details would have to be worked out later. He said his main purpose was to renew a personal friendship with Kennedy and to establish an atmosphere of cooperation between the two governments.

The No. 2 issue on the agenda was trade. Pearson has indicated that he agrees in principle with party of the Star and the decision of the judges is final. Except for employees of the Hope Star and their immediate families, the contest is open to the public.

A numerical listing showing names and business association of those pictured on the three pages, will be printed on Friday June 7th, so that entrants may check their entry and actually see the correct names and places of employment.

...blended exactly to fit your car

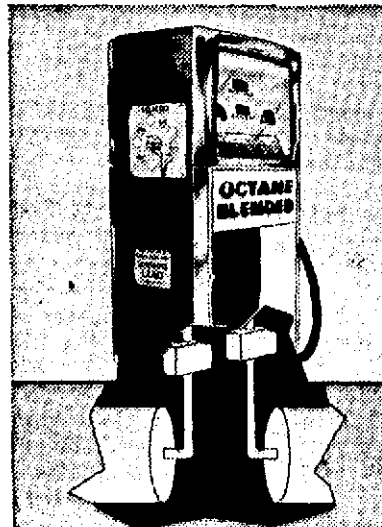

Most brands of gasolines give you only two grades—premium or regular. Many car owners waste money buying premium, with octane power their cars can't possibly use. Many others risk costly repairs by using regular in engines which demand gasoline with higher octane power.

This doesn't have to happen to you. Now you can buy exactly the right gasoline for your car—and save money in the bargain!

Change now to new Lion Octane-Blended Gasoline, blended in the pump, in five different octane ratings... at five different prices. The lower the octane rating that fits your car, the more you save... 1¢, 2¢, even 3¢ a gallon!

Ask your nearby Lion Dealer to show you the chart that tells how much you can save. Change to new Lion Octane-Blended Gasoline, and keep the change!

CHATTER

By "BILL"

Many years ago a famous artist in London decided to paint a picture of the most beautiful woman in the world. He searched the streets of the city for a model, but his search was in vain and he returned to his studio and sat dejectedly before his canvas and easel. Suddenly, the door opened, and a slender grey-haired woman softly entered the room bringing him a cup of tea. He looked up at his mother; there was tenderness, love, compassion and beauty in her time-worn face.

She laughingly rejected his proposal to pose for him but sat in the chair as he directed. Thus it was that James A. McNeill Whistler produced his greatest masterpiece... known all over the world as "Whistler's Mother."

Perhaps none of us will ever be able to produce a great painting, but in our hearts we all carry a picture of the most honored and beautiful woman in the world to us... our Mother!

A special day has been designated in her honor, and most everyone will want to remember her with a gift. We would be most happy to help you make the choice; it could be a dress, coat, suit, hat, lingerie, hosiery, gloves, costume jewelry or sportswear... we have them all and will tie any or all up in the prettiest package ever!

We invite you to shop today, and we hope to be seeing you at Raley's Style Shoppe, 523 West Third Street in Hope.

Now, for the first time in this area, you can buy Super Shell—the remarkable gasoline with 9 working ingredients to make your car work better.

N. E. Jones, President of N. E. Jones Oil Company, has been an oil marketer for 28 years.

N. E. Jones is now the Shell distributor in the Texarkana area. Read why he changed all 13 of his Jones Oil Company stations to the Shell brand, and what it means to you.

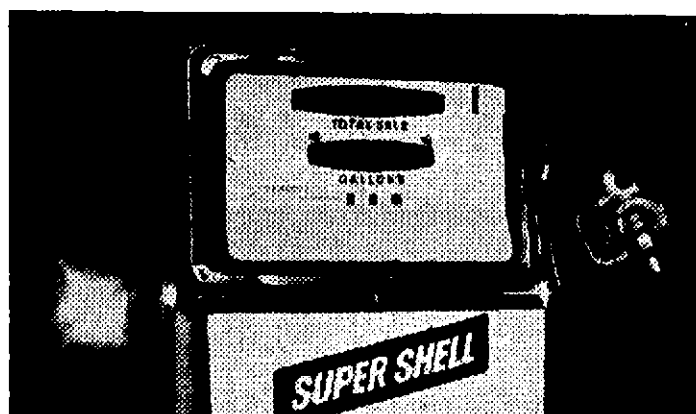

Now you can buy Super Shell gasoline, with nine working ingredients to make your car work better. There's a new Shell dealer in your neighborhood, or nearby. N. E. Jones has changed all 13 of his Jones Oil Company stations over to the Shell brand, effective right now.

Why the change, after 28 years in the oil business? "Just good business," Mr. Jones says. He knows that Super Shell is an excellent gasoline. More important, he knows that motorists know it. More people all over the United States are looking for, asking for and buying Super Shell these days.

Service is still in big demand

But let's not kid about it. No matter how good the gasoline, people still look for service when they drive into a service station.

Nobody knows this better than N. E. Jones and his 13 new Shell dealers. They know they're selling a gasoline that's new to this area. They know they've got to prove something to you, if they want to see you back in their stations. And they do.

For good mileage, a smooth-running engine, power when you need it, stop at this clean white Super Shell pump. Super Shell's 9 working ingredients make your car work better.

So here's a promise:

You'll never drive away from a Jones Oil Company Shell station straining to see through a dirty windshield. It will be wiped without your asking. And your oil, water and fan belt will be checked automatically.

The red and yellow sign of Shell is up at every Jones station in the Texarkana area right now. Drive in soon.

You'll enjoy the complete, courteous service. And you'll like the difference Super Shell with 9 working ingredients makes in your car.

Here are the 9 working ingredients in Super Shell—and what they do to make your car work better.

TCP* works to give you a smooth-running engine and power when you need it.

Platformate packs about 4 percent extra mileage into every gallon of Super Shell.

Anti-knock mix works to fight all kinds of engine knock for a quiet engine.

Alkylate works to control high-speed knock.

Cat-cracked gasoline works to give smooth power.

Butane works to give you quick starts.

Pentane mix works to give you smooth warm-ups.

Gum preventive works to help carburetors stay clean inside.

Anti-icer (added in cold weather) works to help check carburetor icing stalls.

*Trademark for Shell's gasoline additive for ignition control. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U.S. Patent 2869212.

FIRST OF THREE CONTEST PAGES

Nearly every Hope retail and wholesale business establishment is represented on this page of pictures. Here are 82 of the people who make Hope tick by providing goods and services to the people of this market area. Here is one gigantic neighborly family who wants to get better acquainted with you in order that our community — with Eyes to the Future — can continue to grow and progress. Story and contest rules on Page One of this issue. Pages Two and Three will follow on May 17 and May 24, respectively. Watch for them! All persons will be identified by name and business in the June 7th issue.
